THE TIME HAS COME FOR A NEW POLITICAL PARADIGM

Resource Policy

(Addressing energy, environmental issues, natural resources, etc.)

1. Rationalize environmental regulation

- > Distinguish between controllable and non-controllable elements of the environment
  - > Restrict regulations to controllable elements
- > Require regulations to be reasonable
  - > Prioritized in order of their impact on health, safety, and the preservation of the natural state
- > Require regulations to mandate their efficient disposition by their administrative agencies
- > Enact tort reform that requires losers to pay the legal costs

2. Execute a comprehensive energy strategy

- > Reevaluate the efficacy of the Department of Energy (and the EPA)
  - > The Department of Energy was organized in 1977 specifically to eliminate the United States' dependency on foreign oil
  - > It has grown to 16,000 full-time employees and 100,000 contractors with a budget of approximately $25 billion per year
- > Improve the efficiency of the permitting process for fossil fuel exploration
  - > Identify high-probability, low impact areas for oil exploration and begin exploration
  - > Identify high-probability, low impact areas for natural gas exploration and begin exploration
- > Update and expand the electrical grid to support the advent of electric vehicles and additional technological demands recognizing that electricity is currently generated approximately as follows:
  - > 45% Coal
  - > 23% Natural Gas
  - > 20% Nuclear
  - > 7% Hydroelectric
  - > 4% Renewable
  - > 1% Petroleum
- > Provide research grants for the development of alternative fuels
- > Provide the private sector with access to declassified Government technologies, which were developed with taxpayer dollars (principally for the DoD), that can reduce energy consumption and / or support advance alternative energy applications

3. Educate individuals and businesses on voluntary actions they can take to conserve energy and serve as good stewards of the environment

- > Emphasize positive rewards rather than regulatory punishment to shape behavior

4. Lead by Example

- > Reduce the carbon footprint of the President of the United States
  - > Utilize every advanced technology (such as secure web-conferencing, etc.) to facilitate more effective and efficient communication that results in an optimization of work time
  - > Eliminate all campaign and Party-related travel (e.g., fund-raising, campaign messaging, candidate endorsements, etc.)
- > Immediately end the pollution associated with political rhetoric (offered only moderately in jest)
  - > Eliminate the practice of trying to secure a political advantage by creating public fear and / or anger over a misrepresentation of fact that either Party actually desires to subject future generations to dirty air, unclean water, unsafe food, etc.
